ESL SPEAKING CHALLENGE

YES, NO, MAYBE

An interactive activity designed for ESL students to practice fluency, conditionals, modal verbs, and expressive conversational justifications.

ENG HUB

HOW TO PLAY

SAY YES

If it is something you currently do, have experienced in the past, or actively practice in your life.

SAY MAYBE

If it's something you would consider doing in the future, are open to try, or feel neutral about.

SAY NO

If you have never done it, have no desire to do it, or completely disagree with the activity.

Rule: After choosing your stance, answer the three visual prompt questions below using complete sentences and descriptive words.

ACTIVITY WRAP-UP & TIPS

Focus on Sentence Quality

Encourage students to avoid simple one-word answers. Force them to start speaking with connectors like "Even though..." or "I would love to..."

Time-Box Each Slide

Give students exactly 2 minutes to evaluate their stance and formulate answers to the 3 prompt questions in real-time speaking pairs.

Debate & Challenge Stances

Pair up a student who answered "Yes" with a student who answered "No" to the same slide activity. Let them explain their conflicting points of view.

Formative Feedback

Take notes of target vocabulary slips, conditional grammar mistakes, or pronunciation hurdles to correct collectively at the end of the class.

Thank you! Hope this ESL visual speaking activity helps elevate speaking fluency in your classroom.
